Christina @ 3SN	Hi, yes!
Lia Seremetis	yayyyy vesela
Barbara Hawthorn	Hello and welcome Vesela!
Judy Benderson	Does she have tape over her camera?
Christina @ 3SN	Vesela Sretenović is the Senior Curator of Modern and Contemporary Art at The Phillips Collection. She has initiated a series of ongoing art projects called Intersections, inviting contemporary artists to engage with the museum permanent collection and architecture to create new works.
Susan Amber Gordon	Intersections is fantastic!
wowsugi	WHoo Hoo! Here are art SHeroes!
Anne Marchand	Hello Vesela!
Nancy Sausser	Welcome Vesela!
Zoë Charlton	Yay, Victoria!!
Christina @ 3SN	You sound great
Zoë Charlton	Hi Vesela!
E.N. Rader	Hi Vesela!!!
Cameron Gray	Yeah, I can see the lighting change - looks like something's might be blocking Vesela's camera
Zoë Charlton	she might have it covered (Vesela's camera)
Christina @ 3SN	Their "Experiment Station" blog offers behind-the-scenes info, such as their recent partnership with STABLE arts: http://blog.phillipscollection.org/
Zoë Charlton	S/O to STABLE!

Christina @ 3SN	The Phillips has a YouTube channel (https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCJTNoT0JyPFQowhWd9gO4hg) That features gallery tours such as an exhibition tour of Riffs and Relations: https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLVAfcWzEA6yxjgds6Uhu1sdV8yu8R9Fst
Judy Benderson	That's what mine looks like if I forget to take off the tape.
Lia Seremetis	More about Intersections: https://www.phillipscollection.org/multimedia-genre/intersections
Gail Rebhan	Safari works for me
Christina @ 3SN	Online events such as Virtual Teacher Meet-ups, Guided Meditations, Workshops, and Family Activities: https://www.phillipscollection.org/events?type=all
Jeff	Randall, does Vesela have tape over her camera?
Christina @ 3SN	Thanks Lia
Third Space Network	it's a conceptual artwork
Christina @ 3SN	Haha
Jaynelle Hazard	Hi Zoe! Hi Laila!
Jaynelle Hazard	Hi friends!

Zoë Charlton	We see ya!
Lauren B.	Vesela!!
Zoë Charlton	yay!!
linn	yippee!
Keyonna	Cute glasses Vesela!
Jen Miller	so fantastic
Tim Davis	hi Vesela good to see you
David Carlson	I'm a ZOOMBIE

Anne Stine	Joining. Anne Stine artist from Purcellville Va.
Keyonna	Ha @ "Zoombie"
Christina @ 3SN	Transformer's Instagram: @transformerdc https://www.instagram.com/transformerdc/
wowsugi	:pizza: Here a slice of pizza for ZOOMBIE!
David Carlson	thank you, yum
Cameron Gray	I love Zoom. I've been trying to onboard clients to it for forever, and it's especially helpful for screen sharing & showing how to do technical things. It'll catch on!
Jeff	Just bought stock in Zoom
Cameron Gray	We bought Zoom stock too!
Nancy Hirshbein	On the plus side, everything being online means that I can "attend" events across the US and the world.
Judy Benderson	I screen mirror Zoom to my television.
Cameron Gray	So true, Nancy. I love that all these in-person things I couldn't attend are now accessible
Zoë Charlton	so true Nancy! I been checking out so much work!
Jeff	How do u screen mirror Zoom to TV?
Cameron Gray	Jeff, try an HDMI cord
E.N. Rader	I second Nancy, I've had to add a time zone chart to my desk to keep track of them all.
Jeff	Thx
Victoria Reis	Sorry Randall I was getting there - Transformer's digital programming we launched on March 23: Transformer Goes Digital - using social platforms for programming every Mon - Friday
Cameron Gray	Needs to be a Smart TV though
Zoë Charlton	lol, me too, my calendar is packed with Zoom cconversations

Christina @ 3SN	While Transformer's physical space is currently closed to the public, Transformer will be presenting a weekly series of interview videos created by its current artists on view: http://www.transformerdc.org/exhibitions/overview/exhibition-which-yesterday-is-tomorrow
Elizabeth Bracey	It's tough to concentrate sometimes on the virtual learning...some people do well others no so much! I am more of an experiential learner so I am missing the tactile experiences
Danielle Glosser	Nice analogy!
David Carlson	I finished teaching 1/2 of the semester at MU. Translated everything from room into zoom. It worked great for one class, the other was so so.
Lucinda Marshall	Lucinda Marshall with the DiVerse Gaithersburg Poetry Reading Series here--we have done several reading events on Zoom, and it is really hard to present/read poetry that way, but it at least gives us a chance to connect. That has gotten us through the spring, not sure what we'll do in the fall (we don't usually do summer programming so off the hook for that).
shelley lowenstein	when it works, it can be great ... visiting exhibits all over the world, going to lectures ... but then there are those times when it is a lousy technology in its infancy ... delays, freezing, echoes, and more
Christina @ 3SN	Google Arts and Culture also features works in the Phillips Collection: https://artsandculture.google.com/partner/the-phillips-collection?hl=en
Judy Benderson	Need a Firestick or Roku or smartTv. Go to AirPlay receiver. On iPhone go to settings and look for screen mirroring and your device, and click. Should work. Bigger picture
Lucinda Marshall	I would like to invite you all to our program on May 17th which is a discussion about writing poetry during the pandemic, please email diversepoetry@mail.com for log on info. Here is the program info, https://diversepoetry.com/2020/04/28/special-program-how-the-pandemic-influences-our-work-as-poets-may-17th/

Jackie Hoysted	allows for unique partnerships not possible before (artists talks, studio visits) but lousy for experiencing art
Zoë Charlton	the benefits of this virtual art life! definitely will, Vesela, I can see the value of both
Judy Benderson	Good for Zoom drawing sessions with models.
Jaynelle Hazard	the post-covid art world will be physically local but virtually global
Richard L Dana	Great idea, Victoria
Guillermo Almada	Opportunities: virtual space allows people who would otherwise not be able to physically or temporarily attend/participate to commune in the arts.
Jamie	I would be interested in a zoom figure drawing , i want to get back to that.
Nancy Sausser	So true Jaynelle.
candrisse.com	what supports are there for artistic youth?
Nancy Sausser	Common Field was great. And it was free. I was able to attend, but wouldn't have been able to go to Texas.
Keyonna	Yeah Zoom Figure Drawing - thats dope.
Cory Oberndorfer	I agree that art will continue to exist in two worlds and some work cannot transcend those limitations.
Jenny Walton	Thanks for your comments all!
Zoë Charlton	thank you, Victoria! We have you and other art spaces look towards! Transformer is awesome!!
Rebecca Finelli	@Jamie check out the dcartmodelcollective. they are doing just that!
Richard L Dana	Thanks Ladies
Nancy Sausser	Thanks!
Christina @ 3SN	Don't forget ask questions in the Ask A Question pod. Otherwise your questions in the chat may not get noticed by our speakers.
Sue Johnson	Thank you to you three!
Renee Sandell	Grea food for thought!
Jamie	@Rebecca F Thank you !
Keyonna	Hey Ladies!

Helen Frederick	Love the discussion- thanks Vesela!
Helen Frederick	Creating webinars Please join me for this one: Webinar II Virtual Environmental Situation Room The future of Artistic Materials in India and World-Wide Moderated by Helen Frederick Monday May 18 6:30-7:30pm
Jackie Hoysted	slightly different - I curate for an organization called Solas Nua. We are developing a play over zoom and will be played over zoom. Richard Marks from WaPO is sitting in on a lot of the sessions and will write about it.
Rebecca Finelli	@Jamie you are welcome! I have been really enjoying their sessions
Nancy Sausser	Hello Helen!

Zoë Charlton	there's an echo in Tim's audio
linn	Hey Zoë!
Jeff	Tim, move your camera down
francoise yohalem	Hi Tim! This is Francoise, from Mexico!
Liz Ashe	that would probably help
Christina @ 3SN	Tim's site: http://www.timdavisart.com/index.html

wowsugi	Oh yeah
wowsugi	Go Transformer!
B Frank	Hello Francoise
Danielle Glosser	Artwork Archive has a great blog post about how to do a virtual exhibition
Keyonna	We have to find a soft space for ourselves as artists. We want to create but we also have to have time to grief. It's been a serious shift.
Keyonna	*grieve
paula	The Naoko Fan Club is present
Claire Huschle	so true Keyonna.
Christina @ 3SN	Agree, Keyonna
Keyonna	I miss simply walking around art stores!
Kamila Kokoszynska	Can't agree more Keyonna.
Jamie	I agree @Keyonna
Mia Vollkommer	Hello - If you're a visual artist who also teaches I'd love to chat with you about potential teaching opportunities with the Smithsonian Associates Studio Arts Program: Mia Vollkommer, VollkommerM@si.edu , wowsugi	Aw
Keyonna	As an artist and a mom... its A LOT
Christina @ 3SN	Thanks for sharing, Mia
Keyonna	Coming from Full time artistry to full time homeschooling - WHAT IN THE WHAT?!

Christina @ 3SN	Call for Entry for its outdoor sculpture exhibition, Artina 2020 LIGHT: A Sculptural Solar Dance, at the Sandy Spring Museum, deadline May 25th: http://washingtonsculptors.org/call-for-entry-artina-2020-light-a-sculptural-solar-dance/
Jamie	I miss the art store experience , its one of my ways of cultivating inspiration
Rich Collins	thanks for the shout out for Sandy Spring Museum this summer
Jeff	When you make art about the pandemic, it keeps you engaged and busy.
Keyonna	And so many rollercoaster feelings - feeling decent Tuesday and having a plan for Thursday, then Thursday comes and it's like .. "not today"
Christina @ 3SN	If you're a member of WSG, don't forget to update your member gallery. Curators and collectors are actively looking at it: http://washingtonsculptors.org/member-gallery/view-gallery/
Asma Chaudhary	Zoom HH tomorrow night with the Washington Sculptors Group (WSG)! Wednesday, May 13th @ 7 PM. See you there: https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZMpc-yvpjlpEtK2pKXXOAEXEvYdUzbW4tdH
Jeff	Keyonna, you never know when it's Tuesday.
shelley lowenstein	how do we find out about artist studio visits?
Keyonna	I've struggled to connect to the pandemic as a art topic honestly. I think i made two pieces that include face masks lol
Keyonna	Right -- what does Tuesday even mean?!
Zoë Charlton	this is an interesting question: you have three very different perspectives and trajectories on this panel.
Claire Huschle	nyfa.org and creativecapital.org are great resources
Elizabeth Bracey	We have been working so hard to keep our audiences connected with the visual and performing arts. It's been alot of work, but I see how our efforts are working.
Judith Pratt	Yes, Annie. Good overview of WSG's efforts to help local artists.
candrisse.com	Is there a centralized location for the resources shared tonight?

Keyonna	I think artist should definitely consider medium switches too - everything just doesn't translate the same in the third space.
Cameron Gray	I think it'll take about a year or two for many artists to get their revenue streams back as they take time to acclimate online and build their digital brand
Zoë Charlton	also, this question is a challenging one for artists that work in ways where a physical object/'product' is made
Danielle Glosser	Totally agree with Tim!
Claire Huschle	also: DC artists--SCCAH emergency grants open until Friday.
Christina @ 3SN	Thanks for those links, Claire
Victoria Reis	Transformer is posting new resources for artists on our website every Friday:
Victoria Reis	http://www.transformerdc.org/page/resources
Keyonna	Yes @ Claire - planning to go for that one
Keyonna	Humanities DC has some relief funds as well.
Jeff	When having an online exhibition, "place" is still important. Having it on a large network or a place with a large following is still important.
Jen Miller	Yes. Difficult to create when you are caring for others, applying for grants and trying to make ends meet
Keyonna	Yes Jen. Yes!
Kamila Kokoszynska	On one hand solitude in my studio is crucial to create more work, but then too much of it and lack of 3D, real life experience slows down my process.
Keyonna	I'm tired - everyday.
Jason Horowitz	We are not waiting for the art market...we are banding together and acting!! DMV Covid-19 social distance Art Sale -- Support Your Local Artists! https://www.facebook.com/groups/218175095938069/ We have more than 1800 members and have a number of sales. In addition we have a series of curators, gallerists etc picking their top ten from the group. Thanks, Jason Horowitz

Christina @ 3SN	We mentioned these in the last town hall, but it doesn't hurt to post again! Artist Relief: https://www.artistrelief.org/ SBA Small business administration: https://www.sba.gov/funding-programs/disaster-assistance DC commission on the arts and Humanities: www.dcartts.dc.gov
Jeff	I get tired after lunch. Sleepy
Keyonna	Home studios change the game, too.
Zoë Charlton	hey Keyonna, it's a good time to for artists to try a new medium, right?
Keyonna	Yes!
Nancy Sausser	Thanks for organizing this Jason. It's wonderful to watch it grow.
Keyonna	Ironically tho -- i wanna leave digital now.
Keyonna	Thats exciting for me.
Elizabeth Bracey	Jason, I shared this with our artists list after the April Town Hall
Zoë Charlton	also, some artists aren't concerned with the commercial art world...
Jeff	Keyonna, do you have a website?
Jackie Hoysted	Art from the Heart Project – by ARTWATCHDC.com ART FOR HEALTH CARE WORKERS A thankyou you from DMV artists of 4x6” ORIGINAL art to these heroes Info at www.artwatchdc.com/call-for-art or contact JackieHoysted@aol.com Community art project – all volunteer organization.
Keyonna	A lot of my work has been digital work -- I'm tired of the screen now so I'm back with my hands
Keyonna	www.kayemjay6.com
Victoria Reis	And everyone should apply for the NEA CARES $$$ that the DC Commission has available - deadline is this Friday May 15! https://dcarts.dc.gov/service/grants
Jeff	Thx

Zoë Charlton	so true, Naoko.
Claire Huschle	i think keeping an idea and photo journal is helping me capture ideas to process later. no pressure to write right now....
Keyonna	My art gallery is chacc.org -- I've been so stuck as an artist that I haven't even been able to move the nonprofit -- its heartbreaking really.
Richard L Dana	Candrisse - Yes, all attendees will receive documentation of this event
Jamie	I agree with you @Kamila I have trying to advantage of eaach sunny day and explore my outdoor surroundings
Kanika	www.waverlystreetgallery.com
Vincent	as a photographer and educator, this is incredibly refreshing and engaging. thank you everyone.
Zoë Charlton	I like that Naoko's work really challenges this question about format/form and commodity
wowsugi	Thanks Zoe
Jenny Walton	Zoe, I agree
Jeff	Annie, I told you so. LOL
Keyonna	I used to be so techy - I barely look at my phone anymore. Such a shift
Victoria Reis	Thanks Zoe! Luddites of the World - welcome to CrowdCast and the Third Space
Kamila Kokoszynska	@ Jamie I try that as well, take a camera with me take some landscape shots. I also went out to paint plein aires few times. Painting in mask is a quite new experience for me :smile:
Jeff	Annie's work is amazing.
Jason Horowitz	Thanks Elizabeth Bracey!
Kanika	www.waverlystreetgallery.com looking to move to a virtual gallery. My May show postponed. All artists need to be seen by any means possible
Zoë Charlton	yeah, Jenny, it's kinda on the fringes of the convo we had a few weeks ago, too. the space to explore/experiment is the foundation of lots of what Naoko does or offers audience

Nancy Sausser	Good point Claire. Ive been doing the same thing. Idea gathering. Small things. Not starting or committing to big projects right now.
Zoë Charlton	lol, Victoria!
Jamie	@Kamila I have definitely gotten back to photography through all of this. Sounds fun to paint outside I am going to test it out
Claire Huschle	i'm thinking of it as a sowing time, not a reaping time, Nancy
Jenny Wu	Hi Annie! Hi Naoko!
Maremi Andreozzi	Hi Annie
Jackie Hoysted	@Claire Huschle I 'm in the same mode
Elizabeth Bracey	Claire H -- that is such a powerful statement
wowsugi	Here a slice of pizza for Jenny the Wu:pizza:
Nancy Sausser	Yes! And when you think of it that way, it begins to feel fruitful.
Claire Huschle	@jackie. takes the pressure off...
Jenny Walton	:+1: zoe
Zoë Charlton	so great to see Tim D!!
Jeff	I would like to hear curators answer that question too.
Claire Huschle	@nancy exactly
Henry Sienkiewicz, President, Arts Club of Washington	@Annie - I will reach out, the Arts Club of Washington will be doing a call for entry for outdoor sculptor for our garden space.
Lynden Cline	One thing I've found is that some "calls for entry" for electronic exhibits...some have very low potential for "views" but still charge an entry fee
Zoë Charlton	\
Jenny Wu	hi Zoe!
Jeff	I'm leery of exhibitions with an entrance fee. I just saw an entry fee for a grant!
Zoë Charlton	o9 nHey Jenny!

Keyonna	I always fight that notion - that we have this responsibility to talk about issues through our art. art activism - I feel like it definitely happens, its important it does, but a responsibility to do so, i don't believe. We have a responsibility to create. emphasize on period.
Cameron Gray	I'm creating pandemic work! It involves alot of overlays to represent all of these overlaid emotions
Nancy Sausser	It's similar for me for both curating and art making.
Victoria Reis	Oh - it was Annie who is a siter Luddite! Is anyone hearing the same insane double echo of Randall's voice that I am?
Jeff	Yes, I am creating work that comments on the pandemic chamomileteaparty.com
Cameron Gray	I was thinking about doing an digital exhibition for pandemic art
Zoë Charlton	Keyonna [.]
June Linowitz	I'm responding to the pandemic in my work.
Madeleine Sargent	I think it is very hard to make non-cliche photographic works about the virus.
Keyonna	I created a two pieces that included face masks with a reminder to breathe - thats about it
Kanika	Definitely making work that is a response to the pandemic. @kanikasircar
Jeff	June, do you have a website?
Jackie Hoysted	Ar from the Heart by Artwatch is a response to the pandemic
Maremi Andreozzi	As an artist and a mother, the disparity of home roles has become so apparent.
Lynden Cline	A show highlighting work that shows the "heros"
Jamie	I have been responding by painting more often than I had been lately
June Linowitz	I do. That work isn't on it but it's www.JuneLinowitz.com
Keyonna	"Cliche" - yes that was the word i was looking for. "Corny" was rude. Thanks for that.
Glenn Marcus	Resilience!

Nancy Sausser	Yes -sort of but a little bit of a larger concept. MPA will be announcing an open call soon for an exhibit called SHIFT.
Victoria Reis	Jeff - I firmly believe artists should NEVER be charged a fee to show their work or apply for opportunities.
Vincent	as a photographer (vincenthunter.com) i found beauty in the everyday moment before, but this has really changed my approach. I've kept photographing, but it's been mainly for ongoing personal series or to document the times.
Liz Ashe	I;m curating an exhibit that was supposed to open last month. i'm getting a VR gallery space built for it
David Carlson	Being an artist for a long time, I have seen good times and bad. Selling, not selling, etc. But there is always make. I don't wait for this or that. Being creative is the important focus. I can't control outcomes, but when it happens I am ready.
Keyonna	Yes David. Just create!
Helen Frederick	Yes, living in the Silver Spring hotspot, I am creating works about the virus including working with Tim for Resilience. Thanks Tim!
Jeff	Agreed, Victoria. But, a fee to apply for an award??
Laura Roulet	I'm organizing an exhibit for Brentwood Arts Exchange titled "Mothering in an Upside Down World" with three women artists who are also mothers. Hopefully opening in September.
Catherine Day	Yes, to making work about life during the pandemic
Renee Sandell	The WCADC chapter is doing a show Alone/Together. Today, at 4 PM, I was on a Zoom with Liza Lou (in LA) and she shared her collaborative project www.alonetogether.com involving making blankets for comfort.
Cameron Gray	Love that, Laura!
Liz Matthews	My work addresses family conflict and people who are missing and this addresses the challenge we are facing now. elizabethmatthewsart.com

Judith Pratt	Disruption and resilience have always been a subject in the arts. Ironically, it moves the arts forward.
Madeleine Sargent	I hope that we can embrace an almost avant-garde approach to the environment of today. I do think that is exceptionally hard to create work that directly/literally expresses the current environment without relying on cliché themes and narratives.
Zoë Charlton	Artists are responding in various levels of urgency regarding the pandemic. This particular time will seep into work, if not visually, in tone and tenor of the work. conversations/work about separations, disparities, hierarchy, care, solitude, loneliness will emerge
Kamila Kokoszynska	@Jamie It feels very refreshing. I think that the connection via in-person interaction is such a big part of experiencing art, it is hard to replace. On another hand, I think art has power to heal, inspire and lift up, which is so needed during this pandemic time.
Cory Oberndorfer	Great way of putting it, Judith
Lynden Cline	Judith -- thank you for pointing that out... it gives hope
Danielle Glosser	I've had two companies contact me about doing exhibitions to help artists #staytuned
Asma Chaudhary	Yes, well said, Judith!
Jen Miller	laura roulet that sounds really interesting
Jeff	Madeleine, you might be pleasantly surprised.
Jackie Hoysted	I think the pandemic is only part of the Anthropocene and where we are going. Many artists had already moved too that.
Zoë Charlton	great idea, Laura R
Madeleine Sargent	Jeff-- I hope so!

Elizabeth Bracey	We are not planning a specific exhibit, but we ARE adjusting the way that we approach exhibits now. We are always going to have an online presence for our shows from now on, as we have reached SOOOO many more people than we do in person and we have sold so many more works as well. We did a virtual tour of the exhibit that is currently hanging and it was one of our MOST VIEWED posts on Facebook. I am like "Why wasn't I doing this all along!!!"
annette polan	I'm working on a Covid Mandala: Meditations on an Emergency. It's a 7' mixed media mandala that changes daily as I add photos from the day's news. Each day is documented to make an animated film about the tie we are living in
Jeff	Danielle, do you have a link to your site?
Keyonna	Let me know Danielle!!
Shanti Norris	Im curating this exhibition for Brentwood in the fall for PG County Artists. Symbiotic Presence Throughout time, artists have shown the strength and willpower to bring people together and help heal fractured communities, especially during times of crisis. This year's juried exhibition, Symbiotic Presence, provides an opportunity for PG county artists to explore these mutually beneficial and supportive relationships and to tell their stories.
Judy Landau	Laura Roulet...always full of good ideas.
Christina @ 3SN	Thank you everyone for sharing your projects and thoughts!! keep 'em comin
Ira Tattelman	There are calls for art on Instagram, directly about the pandemic or thematically related.

Tim Davis	Good point social interaction is a need
Renee Sandell	role of 21st century art is building community through shared vision.
candrisse.com	I think open zoom meetings on curating a creative space at home could be a great introduction for established artist and the community.
Lauren B.	Yes. Just breathe! You're doing amazing. Thank you!
Zoë Charlton	I like what Keyonna is saying: virtual space has everything to do with access. Convos about access have to be addressed when we're talking about connecting in the Third Space as an option for community
Zoë Charlton	ha ha
wowsugi	That guilt coming from capitalism
Sharon Fishel	KEYONNA- Im working on programs for people that are not

Keyonna	bless up, Sharon! Hit me up! Lets talk!
Helen Frederick	Projected imagery
Keyonna	dope!
wowsugi	Corona is virus, Capitalism is pandemic
candrisse.com	I've watch a few artist on youtube who've shared their practice and it helped me frame my own.
Liz Matthews	I like that Keyonna also said that she is prioritizing. It sounded like she said that she's teaching at home and this is a whole new effort
Jeff	I just get tired of setting up an impromptu Zoom space so people don't think I'm a slob.
Zoë Charlton	yeah! Helen, that's cool!
candrisse.com	including your studio Keyonna!
Zoë Charlton	democratic, maybe, but definitely relational
Renee Sandell	Creative approaches to teaching and learning are needed. I'm teaching Visual Fitness 4 All Workouts (not workshops). Activate learner engagement and shared voices.
Asma Chaudhary	building democratic community space in six foot increments
David Carlson	that is good Helen!
Wendy M. Ross	Agree, thank you Keyonna....not always doing, but also just being present
Victoria Reis	yes - agreed Zoe - so not just about Luddites, but about access - so, with Transformer we are doing projects via US Postal Service and Phone Call (credit to Ginevra Shay - beautiful project she brought to Transformer - 24 artists made phone calls to 220 people reading poems over the phone
Helen Frederick	Walking with artists for perceptual discussions
Jenny Wu	Our society tends to associate a person's value with the person's economic value.
Renee Sandell	Using Zoom breakouts gives everyone more air time to share ideas and images.
wowsugi	me too!

Mary Early	...I'm a Virgo
Cynthia Connolly	totally agree with Claire. It's about seeing the openings for opportunities.. not to use our old framework.. but watching how that framework around us changes and we find those openings.

Jeff	Just ask...
Renee Sandell	Contact me if you're interested in a community building Zoom workout: "Riding The Great Wave & 2020 Pandemic" renee.sandell@gmail.com

Keyonna	Scorpio gang!
Lauren B.	Yes - KEEP IT REAL!!
Zoë Charlton	yep!
Barbara Januszkiewicz	Art is not a luxury, it is a necessity.
vesela	turn to nature....it's waiting for us
Richard L Dana	I'm finding that Time is different during a pandemic. When I find time to create art I enter a great space, but it doesn't seem there is enough time during the day to do everything I want or need to do. I'm not making much art frankly, but that's OK. as Keyonna and Claire suggest
Jenny Walton	I have been walking in nature to get out of my 3rd floor apartment
Asma Chaudhary	:bee: agreed on creating the buzz
Jen Miller	talking a walk is making a comeback. Porch visits. silver lining...
Keyonna	totally okay. sit with yourself - make art in your head. psht
Jeff	Richard, I feel the same way. The days go by fast.

David Carlson	Hey Nancy, come take a walk in our garden.
Josefa Vaughan	Windows are everyone's gallery!
Jackie Hoysted	grow mushrooms - they are amazing!!
Keyonna	chile!
Jeff	One of my issues is pivoting from one activity to another. What should I do next? Should I read or work, eat or watch TV. So, it's the times in between activities are hardest for me.
Jamie	I've been been getting back to photo walks
Tim Davis	The time we now is great , it a lot of options to work, but really have to to be in the moment and just work! not easy but discipline
wowsugi	hell yeah Mushroom solved all human kind problems
Josefa Vaughan	Wear a new outfit everyday!
Jen Miller	a return to community. knowing your neighborhood. also a silver lining
Zoë Charlton	clarity. nice

Asma Chaudhary	cool
Cynthia Connolly	Love them!
Josefa Vaughan	Make supplies kits to drop off with students.
Richard L Dana	Wonderful, idea, Claire. Random acts of kindness

Napoleon Jones-Henderson	There is and will be a critical essence of what making visual images and sharing them will suffer, via the computer screen. Virtual is just that-not real, actually artificial. The spiritual and cultural element of communication in real time and ethereal time is complicated in this platform. The presence of fragrance, touch (physical as well as virtual), taste and spiritual cannot be experienced via this platform.
Kamila Kokoszynska	Keyonna - painting outside during the pandemic time is so helpful
Zoë Charlton	Yay!! we'll help!

Kristine Aono	As a teaching artist at Arts on the Block, we've had to pivot to online programming with our youth. Our focus is now not on the art product, (we make public art) but on emphasis on our community, keeping connected while being artistically active. It's a scary time for our youth. We are trying to keep them engaged and healthy.

Liz Ashe	hahaha, indeed
Glenn Marcus	mind control!
Keyonna	lol Decaf Rose - im slow.
Keyonna	took me a minute
Richard L Dana	I gotta say that that there are two equally great aspects to the two town halls that have occurred. One is the the incredible information and ideas that come from the roundtables.
Liz Ashe	i really don't know how this cup has survived since college...
Jeff	This may make me sound like a wine snob, but I think wine tastes better in a thin-lipped crystal wine glass.
Keyonna	Yeah great ideas.
Wendy M. Ross	interesting frequency...

Liz Ashe	when was the first one?
Jeff	Loving the visuals and music.
Keyonna	lol okay Jeff - with the glass preferences.
shelley lowenstein	richard are you in charge of visuals
Keyonna	Sacred Geometry!
Liz Ashe	a thin crystal wine glass is definitely amazing
Jeff	Yep. Otherwise, it might as well be water. Not that that's bad.
Christina @ 3SN	Didnt know we were goin on a trip!
Nancy Sausser	The first one was April 14
Jeff	Amen Liz
Lori Carbonneau	Love the link, Barbara J1
Richard L Dana	The other is the chat room - It's as if a tight community is formed instantaneously, full of energized and energizing people
Liz Ashe	my crystal glasses are strictly whiskey tumblers right now. the cats kill plenty of stemware
Third Space Network	Audio-visuals courtesy of 3SN coming to you from the underground studio bunker.
Tim Davis	Round table discussion art the where the ideas come together!
Helen Frederick	Love the chat room Richard.
Glenn Marcus	what kind of glass to turn water into wine?
Jeff	So, anyone thinking about their art?

Jamie	I am
Phyllis Hecht	@Richard - yes, great conversations and now great music and drinks of course!
Tim Davis	Yes we all need this energy to create
Claire Huschle	Randall is this your music?
wowsugi	totally

Jeff	Jamie, what are you thinking about?
Tim Davis	yes , always thinking about my work .. al consuming
Jeff	Hey, I know that guy.
Liz Ashe	i'm thinking about the nice things we give each other in hard times. settled on flower paintings, atm
Jeff	Don't you feel strange when you see crowds in movies?
Christina @ 3SN	Lee Scratch Perry is a painter too!
Nancy Sausser	I love that this conversation has been so positive, creative and downright sparky.
Richard L Dana	We honor you, Phyllis, for suggesting such a possibility!!
Jeff	How do I put emojis here using my laptop Mac?
Keyonna	definitely trip vibes.
Jeff	Had a Zoom Mother's Day with our daughters. Getting input from your kids about setting it up was the best part.
Richard L Dana	Lee Scratch Perry - One of the Dub Originators!! One love!
Helen Frederick	Missing Michael Platt...
Danielle Glosser	Jeff - hit the happy face emoji
Wendy M. Ross	already wiped out:

Jeff	Oh yeah, I see it. Thx
Christina @ 3SN	Kraftwerk!!
Danielle Glosser	:+1:
Tim Davis	yes.. inspirations..

Jamie	Jeff, I am thinking about exploring a new series involving the outdoors. I am interested in architecture and texture within nature. I really want to get back to photography. Lately, I have been painting and making jewelry and I want to explore a different medium
Keyonna	:sunglasses:
Jeff	Jamie, cool. What about the outdoors are you thinking about?
Helen Frederick	Amazing production Randall- appreciate and grateful
Glenn Marcus	We dance now
Jeff	:+1:
Wendy M. Ross	Our future????
Danielle Glosser	:dancer:
Richard L Dana	Keyonna - What a life force you are!
Jeff	On a positive note, don't you think we are living in very interesting times? I do.
Jeff	It's HynoDog
Jacqui Crocetta	Jamie, here's a call for entry for Washington Sculptor Group's outdoor exhibit: http://washingtonsculptors.org/exhibitions/call-for-entries/

Shanti Norris	Yes to Jeff. On a positive note, this is a fruitful time and much will come out of this.
Jacqui Crocetta	Where are their masks??
Richard L Dana	For sure, Jeff. For better or worse we are experiencing a monumental event in history

Danielle Glosser	Jacqui - LOL!
Jacqui Crocetta	Hi D!
Jeff	Jamie, I live next to a 500 acre park in Wheaton. Lots of light and dark.
Zoë Charlton	Hey, this was fantastic!! I loved all the panels and the entire chat thread!
Danielle Glosser	Gotta hit my next Zoom. Listening to the school principal will certainly not be as fun. Thanks to all!!!
Jacqui Crocetta	JEFF and JAMIE ... I don't know you, but check out the link I posted a little earlier for OUTDOOR exhibit call
Liz Ashe	ttn, Danielle!
Richard L Dana	ALRIGHT!! Colorful mutat3.ing viruses
Nancy Sausser	Jacqui- is that the WSG Sandy Spring one?
Jamie	Jeff, that sounds amazing ! I would love to check out that park.
Jacqui Crocetta	Yes, Nancy! http://washingtonsculptors.org/exhibitions/call-for-entries/
Jeff	If someone is looking to get outdoors, I'd like to recommend Wheaton Regional Park, and especially Brookside Gardens, which is part of the park. Lots of space and so amazing to be outside in that space. It will make you happy. Guaranteed.
Nancy Sausser	Thanks! That was a great show two years ago.
Jeff	The park and gardens are open.
Annie Farrar	Thanks! Definitely look into the Sandy Spring show. Should be a good one!
maps	yoyo
Jamie	Thanks Jeff !
Jacqui Crocetta	I love Brookside Gardens and Wheaton Regional... I grew up in that area maps	this is so great
Richard L Dana	Yes, Brookside Gardens. I'm there every weekend!
maps	im drink rum and redbull
Jenny Walton	Jeff, I have been hitting the Northwest Branch Trail, there are more courteous people there and more room to explore
Jacqui Crocetta	NANCY... I love Artina!

Nancy Sausser	Go Randall!
Richard L Dana	Yo !!'m dancing now Randall
Jamie	That's a cute neon sign. I've always wanted to make my own
Kamila Kokoszynska	How about an outdoor painting group 6ft social distancing included?
Jamie	I like that idea @Kamila
Kamila Kokoszynska	I am located in the DMV area
Jamie	I am in the DMV to SE
Nancy Sausser	The Northwest Branch is amazing. Doesn't feel close to the city, but it is.
Jenny Walton	Nancy, it has been my sanity saver
Jeff	Jacqui, funny story. I'm from LA originally. But left to go to Michigan State (and to get away from home) when I was 18. I had a roommate from Silver Spring. He took me to his house for spring break and we went ice skating at Wheaton Regional Park. This was 1968. If someone told me, you will be living down the block someday, I wouldn't have believed them.
Daisy Dukes	1
Jacqui Crocetta	I've been thinking about how galleries will reopen. I'm envisioning a more intimate viewing experience. Perhaps you use a service like EventBrite to register for a pass for a certain hour. Openings will be opening weekends. You choose a time slot in advance. Hopefully, galleries can hang in long enough for collectors to get back to buying work. Would love to hear other ideas on this.
Kamila Kokoszynska	If anyone is interested in group painting outings in the DMV area shoot me an email at info@kokoartgallery.com
Richard L Dana	Who is this Grandmaster Randall?
Third Space Network	Having too much fun in the bunker...
Jackie Hoysted	I actually think might be return to brick & mortar galleries - end of art fairs.
Sednah	Hey hey yall! I'm Sednah. this is such a dope concept
Jacqui Crocetta	That would make me happy, Jackie!
Helen Frederick	We can see that Randall - BRAVO!!

Sednah	these videos are amazing
Jamie	Well this has been a nice outing. I have to go. Nice chatting with everyone - Have an amazing week .
Liz Ashe	I agree with you, Jackie
Richard L Dana	Hey Sednah!
Nancy Sausser	These are good thoughts Jacqui. We in the visual arts will have an easier time than the performing arts folks. We will need to embrace the contemplative nature of looking at art.
Sednah	:blush:
Jackie Hoysted	Jacqui - really u can't have been 18 in 1968
Liz Ashe	I think art fairs will largely go online. they are just so expensive and environmentally detrimental to attend
Tim Davis	I can see more places used for galleries, alternative spaces, we need places to be, and speak and relate
Jeff	When this comes to an end, how much of the good part of this self-quarantine will survive? Do you think people will be so eager to get back to their "normal" that they will forget these good parts?
Jacqui Crocetta	Jackie...whaaat???
Liz Ashe	i never expected to give much credit to online exhibitons
Jenny Walton	It's interesting how this will also affect the transformed environments of installations and experiences such as performance art.
Liz Ashe	then i started seeing the development going on with them, largely in Europe
Liz Ashe	and find it exciting
Jacqui Crocetta	Bravo Randall--great Town Hall and online exhibit... need to head out now. Ciao everyone!
Liz Ashe	bye Jacqui!
Wendy M. Ross	Helen, are your cats still dancing???
Jeff	Liz, examples (links)?
Helen Frederick	YUP!

Jacqui Crocetta	Bye Liz!
Liz Ashe	I'm either going to hire exhibit.com or Kuntsmatrix
Jackie Hoysted	Jacqui - check what u wrote - impossible.
Richard L Dana	Hey Tim:
Liz Ashe	there's also artsteps.com
Liz Ashe	those are my favorite 3 that i've found
Tim Davis	Hey Richard , just checked it out, looks like the way to go.. thanks
Helen Frederick	You must be loving this Richard!
Richard L Dana	Hey Tim - The same thought I've had - Sadly there will be a lot of closed storefronts, but this presents opportunities for exhibitions.
Wendy M. Ross	Helen, Bumble (my dear earsweimador) is watching.. head is going to and fro...
Jeff	Thanks Liz
Tim Davis	I know .. I thinking about this too
